YOU MUST PAY THE TAX

The Income Collectors Will Soon Be Around.

WHAT THEY DO IF YOU DODGE

Many People Will Escape the Provisions of the Assessment on Incomes, but There Are a Large Number in Liverpool Who Come Under the Law.

Less than a month now remains for all citizens of the United States, residing at home or abroad, who have incomes exceeding $3,600, to make a return of their profits, gains and losses of business or amounts of their salaries to the income tax collectors. As a result the officers of the Internal revenue department and the collectors recently appointed are sparing no effort to acquaint the people with the requirements of the law and the necessity of prompt action. Ignorance of the law excuses no one, and those who are at all acquainted with Uncle Sam's methods of doing business, especially in the matter of enforcing penalties for non compliance with the statutes, will see the propriety if not the necessity of moving rapidly in the matter of making prompt return.

The provisions of the law have been fully set forth heretofore, but there are a number of features that may have escaped the notice of those subject to its requirements. These features more particularly relate to the tax on realty, inheritances and the matter of the penalty for failure either to make a return or for making a fraudulent one. Profits on realty purchased within two years previous to the year for which the income is estimated must be returned. The construction upon this provision requires a return of profit and loss upon deals in realty during the years 1893 and 1894. Under this provision real estate agents and buyers and sellers of property are especially liable and in not a few cases the returns made by them will throw light upon other parties to contracts made.

Those persons who have laid out new subdivisions, whether the same shall have been accepted or not by the cities of which they either now or will constitute a part, will feel the weight of the law and be subject to the long chilly fingers of the tax collector. However, debts ascertained to be worthless will not be embraced in the computation of the tax.

Money and the value of all personal property acquired by gift or inheritance must be included in the return. It will be seen therefore that inheritance in this state will be subject to a double tax, one for state and the other for national purposes. However, for state purposes all estates of inheritance or gift below $20,000 are exempted, but an inheritance or gift of value, although it be of value of a few dollars, must be returned with other items where the whole exceeds $3,500.

If there are any who imagine that by refusal, neglect or failure to make a return they will escape the provisions of the law and the penalties attached they will find themselves sadly mistaken. It is provided that in case of such failure the collector or his deputy may go ahead with the work and make out a list or return upon the best available information, and this, when duly certified to by him, will be accepted as the return of the person upon which the tax shall be "extended and assessed." However incorrect this return may be, the tax may be collected and the subject will have no redress on the plea of excessive return. If then there are any who prefer to trust to the judgment of the collector based upon such information as he may be able to obtain they will do so at some peril to their best interests.

In all cases of wilful neglect and refusal to make a return as prescribed by law, the collector is empowered to add 50 per cent penalty to the amount of the tax due on such list.

In such cases of wilfully false or fraudulent returns, it is made the duty of the collector to add 100 per cent penalty to the amount of the tax ascertained to be due. It is provided, however, that "no penalty shall be assessed upon any person or corporation, or association, for such neglect or refusal, or for making or rendering a wilfully false or fraudulent return, except after reasonable notice of the time and place of hearing, so as to give the person charged an opportunity to be heard."

An effort is now being made in congress to change some provisions of the law, but there are members so bitter that in the main it may remain as it is.

Thanks From Nebraska.

E. I. Baxter, Mills Bennett and John

Roberts, the committee from Haynes band having in charge the sacred concert, have received a letter from President W. F. Ringland, of Hastings college, Neb., thanking the people of East Liverpool for their generous donation. He says that the money will be distributed under the personal observation of men who best know what the people need. He has investigated the stories of destitution, and finds that in 40 counties there are no less than 30,000 destitute families.

ROASTED HILL.

Some Amusing Incidents at a Court Trial Yesterday.

The trial of Frank Hamilton versus E. D. Marshall for $46.70, claimed due as a rebate on the Dow tax, was had before Squire Travis yesterday afternoon. The attorney for the plaintiff roasted the defendant's representative, Walter B. Hill, to a turn, and such a trial has probably never been held in city hall.

As the attorney for Hamilton was about to open the argument, Hill laughed and sneered and this brought forth a torrent of adjectives which were not so funny. The attorney looked at him sharply and said "fools laugh, inmates of insane asylums laugh, idiots laugh, but a wise man maintains silence."

Hamilton was compared to the beggar who fell among thieves and was robbed; but, said the prosecution, "they even take his watch. And I doubt not that had Hamilton been possessed of a pair of patent leathers of the defendant's size he would have asked for them also." He told Hill to go home, clean his nose and black his shoes, and possibly he would look like a gentleman. In referring later to Hamilton's condition, he said he had shorn Hamilton until only the hair and hanks were left for Mrs. Farmer, his landlady. "There wasn't even that," said Mrs. Farmer. While leaving, Mrs. Farmer turned in the doorway and said she hoped God would give the squire grace to decide right, and the prosecution replied, "Hallelujah, glory to God, sister Farmer." The squire withheld his decision until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

THAT OFFICIAL ROW.

Council Means Business in the Board of Health Case.

From all appearances council means to fight the health authorities to the bitter end, and will not allow their prosecution to fag. Although many believe the case will never come to trial, or if it does, will amount to nothing, the fact remains that the city fathers are preparing for battle.

Solicitor Clark this morning secured for each side a typewritten copy of the motion made by Mr. Marshall to "refer back the board of health bills for certification and correction" with the names of those who voted in favor of and against; the latter faction being only two in number, Messrs. Kent and Horwell. The copy was in the form of a certificate signed by Clerk Hanley, and is evidence that council is in earnest.

Solicitor Clark said this morning that he had so far nothing to do with the case, although he would no doubt be forced to take one side or the other later on. As he was with the board of health in the mandamus case, and the sentiment of council is that it would not look well to ask him to defend the legislative body now, Mr. Clark will undoubtedly remain with the sanitary authorities in case the matter comes to trial. Several of the officials of the board express regret that there should be any trouble, but each side is determined that warfare shall and must go on.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

The Good Citizenship League Now Perfected and Ready for Work.

At the meeting of the Good Citizenship league, held Tuesday evening, organization was perfected and the following officers elected: President, J. J. Purinton; vice president, T. Mills Bennett; secretary, U. G. King; treasurer, Thomas Collins.

The league will meet again on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock in the Methodist Protestant church to discuss matters of importance. The sessions so far have been largely attended, and the workings of the league promises to be successful beyond anticipation.

The Postmaster's Valentine.

Postmaster Simms' valentine is a novel one this year as today he spends his last hours in Uncle Sam's employ. Postmaster Miskall has been "getting the hang" of things for several days, and will assume his official position tomorrow morning. Good words for both gentlemen and their efficient assistants have been spoken by East Liverpool's best citizens of late and are appreciated.

WE ARE AS GOOD AS ANY

What Beaver Falls Men Think of Liverpool.

IN LOVE WITH THE WATER WORKS

The Council From a Pennsylvania Town Find That This City Is Strictly In It. They Like the Fire Department—Have Visited Many Towns in the East, and None Are Better Than Our Own.

East Liverpool can hold its head up and be proud today for Beaver Falls thinks we are as good as any of the big towns in the east.

C. H. Myers, G. E. Freed, Samuel Creese, L. S. Lutton, L. Estmeyer and Herman Dillon were the councilmen who drove to town in a big bobbed this morning. They were accompanied by George W. Wyman, of New Castle, and W. K. Helmer, the last named being the representative of the great Holly Pump company, of Lockport, N. Y. They were taken to the pumping station on the river, the city hall, patrol station and fire department, and their praise knew no bound. They have visited Boston, Buffalo, Lockport, Lynne, Philadelphia, Allentown and Brooklyn, and in no place, they say, have they seen anything to beat the system of East Liverpool. Superintendent Morley, of the water works, got a great portion of their praise, and they look upon the pumping station as one of the finest in the land. The fire department also attracted their attention, and they were surprised to find so complete a company in a place of this population. The councilmen are all enterprising, wide awake business men, and know a good thing when they see it. They heap nothing but praise upon the city, and think that we have a model water works, fire department and patrol system, wishing that that their town could be as well managed. They came in a sled drawn by four big horses, and returned in the same outfit.

Preparing for a Celebration.

The Grand Army, Junior Mechanics, public schools and churches of Fredericktown will unite in celebrating Washington's birthday with great ceremony. J. A. Martin, Lisbon; Professor Galbreath, Mt. Hope; L. T. Farr, Rogers, are the speakers from a distance, while D. J. Smith, J. H. Hayes, and others will look after the local side. The ladies will serve supper in the hall. Professor Todd has been made the master of ceremonies, and an interesting program has been prepared. The exercises will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and continue through the evening. The patriotic people of the township propose to have a big time.

The Sewer Pipe Compact.

According to the Toronto Tribune, representatives from all the sewer pipe companies met in Pittsburgh yesterday, and completed the formation of the compact, of which Mr. Anderson, of this city, is the general manager. The office of the company will be in Pittsburgh, and the actuary will be in charge. All the sewer pipe firms, it is said, are putting their plants in better shape by making additions, improvements and enlargements in facilities, etc., and as the quota from each firm is to be fixed during the months of May and June, all of them are hustling.

For Breach of Contract.

Special to the News Review. LISBON, Feb. 14.—The Gerke Brewing company, of Cincinnati, brought suit today against Mrs. E. A. Abrams for breach of contract, asking $1,836.83. The plaintiffs claim that she signed a contract to handle the beer of this company at a fixed price, they to provide a horse and wagon, and a place to store the stock. It is further claimed that the company carried out their part of the contract, but the other did not, and they want judgment. Attorney E. D. Marshall and John Rinehart are named as sutelies in the contract.

Like a New Engine.

The old pony engine was on duty again today, and the railroad men hardly recognized the steam giant so changed is it since being relegated to the shops. The engine has been thoroughly repaired and remodelled after the style of recently built engines until it looks like new.

Daughters of St. George Celebrate.

The Daughters of St. George celebrated their sixth anniversary last evening with an entertainment and banquet. The entertainment was made up of a splendid array of speakers who made good speeches, and the banquet was a feast which pleased all who were so fortunate as to be present. Among the speakers was Thomas Filmer, of Akron, one of the state officers. He was here when the grand lodge met last summer, and formed acquaintances which made him long to return.

Their Patron Saint.

St. Valentine ruled with a pleasant but steady hand today, and thousands of pretty, as well as horrid, missives were flying through the land. The mail carriers had extra loads, which, with the weather, made their employment anything but pleasant. Some new things in valentines were seen, many of the prettiest being treasures which showed artistic skill, and no small eye for the beautiful. The comic valentines are more hideous than ever, but retain all the features of the days when you were young, and got even with some fellow by sending him a representation.

Cutting the Ice.

The captain of the towboat Charlie Hook is attempting to keep his promise to cut a channel in the ice which now covers the river, and a mighty howl goes up from the farmers as a result. Country men have been saving from 50 cents to $1 every time they brought their wagons over on the ice, and will not only find this saving done away with, but will be without any means of crossing, since the ferryboat cannot run. It is not thought that the work of cutting the ice will be a success.

Did Not Own the River.

John Henderson and William Temple, two well known colored men who are ever on the lookout for fun, swept the snow from the ice on the island last night, and expected to charge all skaters five cents for the privilege of skating. The youths who skated could not understand why anyone should lay claim to the river, and they refused to pay. Henderson and Temple looked upon it as the meanest kind of a trick, and could not see where the joke came in when the crowd chased them away.

That Pawn Shop.

H. Yoffee, the Beaver Falls man who is anxious to display the sign of three balls on one of East Liverpool's prominent thoroughfares, was in the city again yesterday to see what action council had taken on his proposition to locate here. He said he had been in Steubenville and they had charged him $25 for a license there. He will start up here if a reasonable sum is charged but council is evidently in no hurry about the matter.

The Choral Union.

The singers who have been interested in the formation of a choral union can now say that it is an organization, and every effort will be made to win for it the respect and support of the community. Meetings will be held every Thursday evening in Bradshaw hall, and all who wish to become charter members are expected to be present this evening at 8 o'clock. The move promises good choral music for East Liverpool.

Almost Collided With a Car.

When Andy Gahn was driving around the corner at the Hotel Grand yesterday afternoon he discovered that a car was coming rapidly up Washington street. Being unable to turn into the street, he moved his horses toward the building, driving on the pavement. The horses escaped colliding with the car, and the driver knew that he had had a narrow escape.

Meeting With Success.

The meeting of the general committee of the Brotherhood takes place tomorrow evening, and it is thought that the report of soliciting committee will show great progress. The members have been working diligently and have gotten a number of names of people anxious to take stock in the building. There is no doubt in any minds that it will be a complete success.

The Population Increases.

The population began to go up with the rise of the thermometer this week and in addition to the several movings mentioned two more arrived today. The household goods of J. A. Gray came from Bellaire and the effects of Samuel Steel were shipped from New Cumberland. The families of both gentlemen will reside in this city.

Scared at a Car.

The team of a farmer scared at a car on Sixth street yesterday afternoon, and dashing down the street collided with a sled. As the horses were also hitched to a sled there was a smashing of wood which caused no end of damage for the owners of the respective outfits. No one was hurt.

DOGS FOR COMPANIONS

The Pitiable Condition of Thomas Simms.

SAD SCENE IN A SHANTY

The Victim of Poverty Is Ill With Rheumatism, and the Humane Society Will Prosecute St. Clair Township Officials if They Do Not Do Their Duty—A Sad and Pitiful Position.

Agent Thomas Lloyd, of the Humane society, is after the trustees of St. Clair township, and proposes to have them look after a deplorable case which came to his notice yesterday.

The unfortunate victim is Tom Simms, who lives in a shanty near the Gaston mine in California hollow. About this time last year the man was destitute, and the Liverpool trustees, believing that he was a resident of the township, took charge of his case. On the first visit they found that the house was filthy, and Simms had some provisions in form of meat which had long been unfit for use, being of a green and sickly color. This he was about to cook when the trustees stepped in the shanty, and confiscating the stuff had it destroyed. He was provided with food, and so well cared for during the winter that he got along very well. When Agent Lloyd heard of the case the other day, he went to the house and found that Simms was suffering from an attack of rheumatism, having no other companions than three dogs, who seemed very attentive. As Simms has no one to care for him except the neighbors who occasionally drop into the house, leaving him alone for days at a time, the authorities fear that he will die, and the dogs will mutilate the body. As the shanty is only a few feet from the Liverpool township line, yet situated within the borders of St. Clair township, the trustee at Calcutta has been notified to appear at once, and take charge of the man. The Humane society officials propose to see that this is done, and will not permit the poor fellow to remain in his present condition if they are compelled to prosecute the St. Clair township authorities for their negligence. Some word is expected from Calcutta this afternoon or tomorrow.

Stolen Piece of Meat.

A market street butcher mourns the loss of a piece of meat taken from the front of his store yesterday. He left the meat hanging out as a sign while he went up town, and a notorious character happening to pass that way saw the tempting morsel, and helped himself. The butcher learned of the theft when he returned, and attempted to recover the meat, but the thief had stowed it carefully away where it was far beyond the reach of even the officers of the law.

No Answer.

Bert Scheller, the wrestler, is in the city waiting for an answer to the challenge he issued on Monday of this week. He is taking the best of care of himself, and not permitting an easy life to undo him for any matches he may have in the future. He is anxious to have some of the star wrestlers take up the gauntlet he has thrown down since he believes he can hold his own with any, and only needs the opportunity to prove it.

Whipped His Father.

A beautiful ruction took place in the West End last night, the most interested parties being a father and son. The father believed he was able to whip the boy, who had been abusing his mother, but the young man, who is rapidly gaining a reputation as a tough, was too much for him. The next time the happening occurs there will likely be an arrest or two.

Spreading Out.

Special to the News Review. LISBON, Feb. 14.—Papers have been filled here showing the organization of a branch of the Humane society at Columbiana. The society is spreading in all parts of the county and already there are a number of branches authorized outside of East Liverpool where the headquarters are.

No Longer Mrs. Rose.

Special to the News Review. LISBON, Feb. 14.—The court today granted a divorce to Mrs. Ada Rose, giving her the maiden name of Ada Henderson. This is probably the end of the famous litigation.

Oschmann Gave Bond.

Ferd Oschmann today gave bond in the Abrams case, indemnifying Constable Albright and the constable will accordingly sell the goods in dispute on Feb. 25.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, FEB. 14.

For President, WILLIAM McKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

GROVER CLEVELAND has some show of being the next president of the United States—nit.

THERE are lawyers and shysters, and unfortunately East Liverpool has within its borders a shyster or two.

It certainly seems as though this land of the free will soon be on the gold basis to stay, regardless of the dire calamities promised by the silver men.

MR. CARLISLE has the unfortunate habit of telling the truth occasionally, much to the discomfort of the amateur statesmen who want to rule or ruin, and seem inclined to the latter.

AN ELECTRIC PLANT.

THE NEWS REVIEW prides itself upon always advocating that which is for the best interest of East Liverpool, and for that one reason it urges that the members of council not only think twice, but a number of times, before they advocate the operation of an electric light plant by the city.
There are towns in the country where are lights are used on the streets and incandescent lights are sold to private consumers, the city being the dispenser of the power. Some of them have made it pay; others have produced a miserable failure, at which the taxpayers howl, and the private corporations stand by and laugh in their sleeves. The paying towns, as a rule, are in the New England states, and in the majority of instances the power used is water. The cost is thus reduced to a minimum, and light is made at a price that would drive a western company to bankruptcy. In the places where it does not pay there are no special helps from nature, and the municipalities must contend with the troubles that drive private corporations to debt and ruin. As a rule, these plants are poorly managed, politics finds its way into the personnel of the employees, and there is anything but a satisfactory result. The News Review feels that councilmen are merely servants of the people, and before they make any move that will result in the expenditure of a large amount of money, such as would be required for a municipal plant in East Liverpool, should make careful investigation. We have faith enough in the members who now sit in council to believe that they will not plunge blindly into any scheme for the mere pleasure of spitting a corporation, which, while it has been unfortunate, has not treated the city as it should. They will think twice before they cast bread upon a sea of financial trouble and official pain.

Through Algerian Spectacles.

In a delightful paper before a club recently Mrs. Fannie C. Barbour, the writer and traveler, gave a description of her visit to some Algerian ladies.
Through the interpreting friend who accompanied her the hostesses conveyed their polite pity at her extraordinary costume. "Where," they asked in plaintive pity for the unfortunate American, "are her Turkish trousers?" When told that she came from America, they asked where that was, and on hearing that it was across a great sea complacently remarked: "Not so great as our Mediterranean. There is no sea like that."

Food For Man and Beast.

"We read sometimes," said Mr. Bill-tops, "of people 'eagerly devouring' a newspaper, but horses sometimes do that literally. Twice lately I have seen horses eating newspapers. Perhaps this might come under the head of 'taking in every word.'"—New York Sun.

For over 400 years Nov. 13 was observed in England as a festival. It commemorated the death of Harlanute and the accession of Edward the Confessor, by which the country was delivered from the yoke of the Danes.

NOTE LIKELY TONIGHT.

The House Considering the Bond Resolution Today.

BOND CONTRACT SUBMITTED.

The Ways and Means Majority Report Favors Giving Secretary Carlisle the Authority to Substitute Bonds to the Amount of Contract—Minority Report.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The house is devoting its attention today to the bond resolution reported from the ways and means committee, and Speaker Crisp says the house will probably reach a vote tonight. The committee on rules will meet this morning and report as a rule allowing a certain number of hours for debate and fixing a time of vote late in the afternoon. Chairman Wilson says action must be had at once in order to be effective.

The report which Chairman Wilson submitted for the majority of the ways and means committee gives the details of the president's recent message and says: "The committee has had the benefit of a conference with the secretary who exhibited to them the original contract entered into by himself on the 8th day of February and explained its details to them. It is the object of the joint resolution herewith submitted to give to the secretary of the treasury authority to substitute such bonds to the amount of the contract. The saving to be effected to the government as set forth in the president's message will be $539,139 per year for every year the 3 per cent bonds run and of the amount of $16,170,770 should they run 30 years. As it is not believed by the committee that the issue of bonds specifically payable in gold will impose any additional burden of liability upon the government than if they are made payable in coin under its pledge and policy to preserve the parity of coin the two medals, the saving of this large amount becomes a matter of substantial moment and advantage of the government and as the parties to take the bonds are under contract to furnish gold coin for them, it seems no hardship on the government to contract to pay them back in the same coin that they furnished to it."

The full text of the bond contract is signed by J. G. Carlisle, secretary of treasury; August Belmont & Co., on behalf of Messrs. N. M. Rothschild & Sons, London and themselves, and J.
C. Morgan & Co., on behalf of Messrs.
J. S. Morgan & Co., London and themselves. It reads as follows:

This agreement entered into this 8th day of February, 1895, between the secretary of the treasury of the United States, of the first part, and Messrs. August Belmont & Co. of New York, on behalf of Messrs. N. M. Rothschild & Sons of London, Eng., and themselves and Messrs. J.
P. Morgan & Co. of London and themselves, parties of the second part. Witnesseth.

Whereas, It is provided by the revised statutes of the United States (section 3709) that the secretary of the treasury may purchase coin with any of the bonds or notes of the United States authorized by law at such rates and upon such terms as he may deem most advantageous to the public interests; and the secretary of the treasury now deems that an emergency exists in which the public interests require that, as hereinafter provided, coin shall be purchased with the bonds of the United States of the description herein mentioned, authorized to be issued under the act entitled, "An act to provide for the resumption of specie payments," approved Jan. 14, 1875, being bonds of the United States described in an act of congress approved July 14, 1870, entitled, "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt."

Now, therefore, the said parties of the second part hereby agree to sell and deliver to the United States 3,500,000 ounces of standard gold coin of the United States at the rate of $17.80441 per ounce, payable in gold at the rate of 100 per cent, or registered bonds, said bonds to be dated Feb. 1, 1895, and payable at the pleasure of the United States after 30 years from date issued under the acts of congress of Jan. 14, 1875, and Jan. 30, 1875, and Jan. 14, 1875, bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, payable quarterly.

First—Such purchase and sale of gold coin being made on the following conditions:—
At least one-half of all coin delivered hereunder shall be obtained in, and shipped from Europe, but the shipment shall not be required to exceed 300,000 ounces per month, unless the parties of the second part shall consent thereto.

2. All deliveries shall be made at any of the sub-treasuries or at any other legal depository of the United States.

3. All gold coins delivered shall be secured on the basis of 25 to 10 grains of standard gold per dollar, within limit of tolerance.

4. Bonds delivered under this contract are to be delivered free of accrued interest, which is to be assumed and paid by the parties of the second part at the time of their delivery to them.

Second—Should the secretary of the treasury desire to offer or sell any of the bonds of the United States on or before the 1st of October, 1895, he shall first offer the same to the parties of the second part, but thereafter he shall be free from every such obligation to the parties of the second part.

Third—The secretary of the treasury hereby reserves the right within ten days from the date thereof, in case he shall receive authority from congress thereafter to substitute any bonds of the United States bearing 3 per cent interest, of which the principal and interest shall be paid in gold payable in United States gold coin of the present weight and fineness, for the bonds herein alluded to; such 3 per cent bonds to be accepted by the parties of the second part at par, i. e., at $18.60495 per ounce of standard gold.

Fourth—No bonds shall be delivered to the parties of the second part or either of them except in payment for coin from time to time received hereunder, whereupon the secretary of the treasury of the United States shall and will deliver the bonds as herein provided at such places as shall be designated by the parties of the second part. Any expense of delivery out of the United States shall be assumed and paid by the parties of the second part.

Fifth—In consideration of the purchase of such coin the parties of the second part and their associates hereunder assume and will bear all the expense and inevitable loss of bringing gold from Europe hereunder, and as far as lies in their power will exert all financial influence and will make all legitimate efforts to protect the treasury of the United States against withdrawals of gold pending the complete performance of this contract.

A minority report was submitted by Messrs. Bryan and Whiting. Mr. Mc-Millin and Mr. Wheeler, while dissenting from the majority of the committee, reserved an expression of their views until they have an opportunity to present them more at length upon the floor of the house.

The Senate Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The senate began its session with a spirited discussion of the financial question, but soon turned its attention to the postoffice appropriation bill and spent the rest of the day on the proposition to have the government own railway passenger cars. Mr. Vilas (Dem., Wis.) brought on the financial discussion by offering a bill granting to the president the authority to issue bonds, for 3 per cent bonds, payable in gold. Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) offered a substitute to the silver bill providing for gold bonds and temporary gold certificates. The two Colorado senators, Mr. Teller and Mr. Wolcott, called attention to the fact that the syndicate of bankers who had secured control of these bonds were now marketing them in London at 112½, making a net profit of 8 per cent at the outset.

The House Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The house devoted the day to business relating to the District of Columbia. Mr. Wilson informed the house that the majority upon the joint resolution providing for 3 per cent gold bonds, which had been favorably acted upon by the committee, would contain a copy of the bond contract.

glass of water at her, striking her in the face and throwing food at her. She also claimed that during the last few years her husband had deprived her of the comforts suitable to her condition in life and that he had refused to converse with her.

Wounded in a Duel.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—A duel has been fought between Lieutenant Marcel Canrobert, son of the late Marshal Canrobert, and M. Hubbard, a socialist member of the chamber of deputies. The combat arose from an expression used in the chamber by M. Hubbard, during the debate on the credit for the marshal's funeral. The fight was with swords, on the outskirts of Paris. M. Hubbard received a deep wound in the chest.

Kempster, health officer of this city, has the matter of removal being left with having this end in view.

CHANG AND KUNG.

These Eminent Chinese Will Beg For Peace.

FOREIGN MINISTERS ADVISE IT.

Wilde, an American, Said to Be Helping the Chinese—He Had Promised the Japs to Be Neutral—Will Likely Be Punished If Caught.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—A dispatch to The Standard from Tien-Tsin says that the recall of the Chinese peace envoys will be followed soon by the appointment of Li Hung Chang and either Prince Kung or Sir Robert Hart, inspector general of Chinese customs, to act as high commissioners and plenipotentiaries to arrange terms of peace. This step is taken on the advice of the ministers of the foreign powers.

A dispatch from Kobe, to The Times, says that according to statements received by Chinese prisoners at Wei-Hai-Wei there are seven foreigners on the Island of Liu-Kung-Tao, one of them being an Englishman, one a German and one an American, the latter being one of the three men arrested at Kobe, on the French steamer Sydney. The Island is victualled for five months.
Coal is plentiful, but ammunition is deficient. The garrison is determined to fight to the last.

If the American mentioned as being in the fort on Liu-Kung-Tao island is John Wilde, and he falls or has fallen into the hands of the Japanese, it will probably go hard with him. When the French steamer Sydney arrived at Kobe last November she was boarded by Japanese officers, who arrested three of her passengers, Wilde, a Scotchman named Cameron and a Chinaman, Chan Tam Moore, who was one time interpreter to the Chinese legation at Washington.
They were taken into custody on suspicion of being engaged in an enterprise against Japan, and it was subsequently learned that they were engaged in a scheme to destroy the entire Japanese navy.

It appears that Wilde's plan was to throw from a torpedo boat shells filled with chemicals, which, on striking, would explode, creating an impenetrable and suffocating smoke, under cover of which attacks could be made with torpedoes. The men were, it was said, to receive from China $1,000,000 for each Japanese squadron they succeeded in blowing up. After being detained for some time, Wilde and Cameron were released after taking oaths not to do anything to assist China during the war. Moore, the Chinaman, was sent to Hiroshima.

PRINCE FERDINAND FLIES.

A Report That He Has Been Expelled From Bulgaria.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—A report is current here that Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has been expelled from that country and has fled to Roumania. Inquiries made in various quarters in this city have thus far failed to confirm the rumor.

Prince Ferdinand is the youngest son of the late Prince Augustus, Duke of Saxe-Coburg, and Princess Clementine of Bourbo-Orleans (daughter King Louis Phil. ap.) He was born Feb. 26, 1861, was elected prince of Bulgaria by unanimous vote of the national assembly July 7, 1887, and assumed the government Aug. 14, 1887, in succession to Prince Alexander, who abdicated Sept.
7, 1886. The election of Prince Ferdinand has not been confirmed by the porte and the great powers. Russia has maintained an attitude of hostility toward the prince.

liant affair ever held in the city.

A Rehearsal For Waterloo.

Feb. 14, 1814.
Napoleon fought the allies at Van-champs, covering Paris. The day was marked by one of those strange prophetic episodes so common in the life of the man of destiny. The chief actors in it were Grouchy and Blucher, loser and victor in the side game which decided Waterloo. Blucher was beaten at Van-champs, and Napoleon sent Grouchy, with 3,000 horse, to sweep around to his rear and block the road of retreat.
At sundown Grouchy's line of sabers stretched across the road where it ascended a slight eminence, completely hemming in the retreating columns.
Within a few days Blucher had lost 15,000 men and 27 cannon in hopeless battles. In despair he rode along the French front, hoping that a shot from Grouchy's carabiniers would spare him the disgrace of surrendering. Aroused at last, he placed the few remaining cannon at the head of a column and ordered it to march in close mass upon the French cavalry. Grouchy had no artillery, and after waiting for the enemy to expend his best shots charged up to the muzzles of the guns. It was a useless sacrifice. The horsemen recoiled, and Blucher marched steadily on with his main column, sacrificing, however, the detachments on the flanks. Grouchy, in desperation, rode fearlessly into the enemy's ranks, sabering the Germans right and left. Blucher got through, effected a junction with reserves, and reaching Paris compelled Napoleon to yield the empire. Had either of the great marshals been killed, what of the event which turned the scale at Waterloo?
GEORGE L. KILMER.

A BIG EXODUS.

The Scheme of "Peg" Williams of Georgia to Lead 100,000 Negroes to Mexico.

The redoubtable "Peg" Williams of Atlanta, he of the negro exodus fame, has created a small sized sensation in Texas and Mexico by announcing that he would export 100,000 negroes from the southern states to Mexico during this winter. The above information was conveyed to Atlanta last night in a press dispatch, dated at San Antonio, Tex., which also stated that "Peg" had signed a contract on Saturday to furnish a wealthy planting company in Mapamia, Mexico, 300 laborers, to be obtained from Georgia.

"Peg" Williams is one of the best known railroad men in Georgia, and he has been instrumental in the exportation of more worthy and worthless negroes from this state than any other half dozen men in it. He is known, and intimately, by every prospective darky exodus-er in the borders of the state, from the Blue Ridge to Liberty, and to say aught against "Peg" in the hearing of any one of them is to lay yourself liable to trouble.

Did "Peg" mean what he has been telling the people out in Texas? Will he really relieve the south of 100,000 members of its population within a few months, and, if so, how will he do it?
Will he colonize and march them to the land of the greaser, or will he send them in specials prepaid all the way through?

"Peg" Williams is known as a hustler, and when he undertakes to do a thing he generally succeeds. If there are 100,- 000 negroes in the south who want to go to Mexico that have the necessary cash, "Peg" Williams is the man who can carry them. He is resourceful, and if they have the money he can provide transportation for that number and many more.—Atlanta Constitution.

The styles are beautiful and as to quality and prices they can't be beat.

Would be Amusing.

A resident remarked yesterday that it would be extremely amusing to see Solicitor Clark's bill passed upon by the board of health and ordered paid. "Then," said the gentleman, "it would be sent to council for payment, they could refuse and there would be mandamus case No 2." But council, or rather the two city fathers, who voted to lay over the bill, want to see the cash come from the individual pockets of the board.

The Wire Was Down.

The troublesome trolley wire of the street railway company was down last night at Brady's cut for a distance between several poles, and it was found necessary to transfer passengers. Scenes and incidents connected with happenings of this sort were abundant at the cut, although the repair crew soon had the wire again in position.

Only One Prisoner.

All is quiet about city hall again today, and the jail holds but one prisoner within its ample recesses. He is Albert Shenton, who was committed to the workhouse until his fine and costs for intoxication were paid, but the chances are that he will not take a trip to any institution of that sort.

ROMANY'S PRINCE WILLIAM.

He Lives Near East Hartford—His Tribe Are Noted Horse Trainers.

One of the most famous representatives of Romany Rye in this country is Prince William, as he is called, who, with his family, lives near East Hartford. There are branches of the family at New Haven and Bridgeport. The East Hartford branch of the family is the main branch.

The Williamsses are all horse dealers. Attached to their residence are stables which, in winter, always contain a stock of fine blooded draft horses.

One of the interesting sights at the stables are the wagons that are used by Prince William and his family when they go off on their annual nomadic pleasure trips. These wagons cost from $1,000 to $2,500. Prince William's private wagon cost $2,500 and is fitted up in regal style.

In these trips around the country the whole family joins. These trips are made in the summer, spare horses being taken along and sold or traded. This means a cavalcade of a dozen fancy wagons and about 100 horses.

The start is made about the 1st of August, the entire family—men, women and children—being taken along. The party keeps together, traveling by easy stages, about 20 miles a day being considered a good journey. When in a hurry, they can make 40 miles a day.

The place selected for the night's rest is usually a grove. There the wagons are drawn up in a circle, fires are lighted and the evening meal prepared.

After supper the whole party gather around Prince William's tent or wagon, and the affairs of the family are discussed. A watchman patrols the camp all night to watch the horses.—New York Times.

MAKING TURPENTINE

AN EXTENSIVE INDUSTRY IN CERTAIN SOUTHERN STATES.

How the Trees Are Tapped and the Resinous Gum Gathered—Departments and Divisions in the Work All Under the Keen Eye of the "Rider."

Dialect writers find a fruitful field among the "Tar Heels" of the Carolinas, Alabama and Georgia. In the cool depths of the turpentine woods, with the gashed trees yielding up their resinous gum, the balmy air and the picturesque "hackers," "dippers" and "scrapers," with the ever vigilant "rider" watching everything, is a phase in southern life which has long been the delight of authors and the pleasure of artists. The crudity of the implements and the stils used in making turpentine and resin lend additional interest to this old industry, and the gypsylike habits of the turpentine makers add to their ragged, illiterate charms.

Turpentine is the distilled gum of the pine trees of North and South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and part of Florida. The season begins when the first spring sap rises and ends when cold weather checks the flow of the tree's blood. In January or February the "hacker," with his keen bladed ax, begins the round which ends with the season. He is the expert of the woods and knows his trees and just how much hacking they will stand. His task is to cut the "boxes" in which the thick gum of the wounded tree will collect. A box is a wide incision about six inches deep, a wedge shaped cut in the tree, and he hacks from 90 to 100 boxes a day. The first boxes are cut near the roots of the tree, and they are cut as close together to the height of a man's head as can be done without killing the pine. The hacker leaves a width of bark between each box so as to preserve the vitality of the tree. When the trees are leased to the turpentine makers, the terms of the lease limit the number of boxes to each tree, but when it is desired to work the pine to the fullest extent the gashes are carried up to a height of 20 feet or more.

After the hacker comes the man who "corners" the boxes. This "corner" is a cut in the top of the box to guide the sap into the cavities left for the gum, and the man who "works" the "crop" goes systematically from box to box, starting the sap anew with fresh incisions, working in this way 10,000 boxes during the season. The sap or gum fills the boxes with a clear, sticky, thick fluid, and this is removed by the "dipper." Scattered through the woods are barrels in which the "dipper" deposits the gum, which is then hauled to the still. About a quart of sap is taken from each box by means of the trowel shaped scoop used by the dipper, and then the hacker comes along and starts the flow afresh by wounding the tree again. The turpentine maker watches his men closely, for the Tar Heels are an easy going people and require to be urged by the "rider," who goes through the woods on horseback examining the crop, hurrying the dippers and hackers and sending the barreled gum to the still.

The first or "virgin" sap which flows in the spring makes the best resin, and the poorest is the product of the hardened gum which is left on the sides of the boxes when the sap "runs down" in the fall. This is removed by the "scraper," who moves through the woods with his scraping tool, gathering the leavings.

The still is a large copper vat hooded with a close fitting cover in which is a funnel which in turn is connected with the "worm" of the still. This worm runs down into another vat near at hand, and in this vat the fumes or vapor of the heated gum is distilled into turpentine. Fire under the copper vat heats the gum, and the volatile parts rise to the funnel, pass into the still and are condensed by the water in the second vat into spirits of turpentine. The residuum left in the vat is the resin of commerce, which is passed through a series of strainers and sieves to the barrels, which are made on the spot. The turpentine, however, cannot be barreled so easily, for it will work through an ordinary barrel. It is placed in white pine barrels which have been coated inside with several coats of strong, hot glue until the barrel is impervious to the subtle fluid.

The trees are worked for five or six seasons, and then the turpentine maker moves to another part of the woods. He started in North Carolina, crossed over to South Carolina and is still moving toward the gulf. Forest fires destroy the pines faster than the hacker does, for the flames sweep over large areas before they die out. Careful owners of turpentine woods have the pine straw and fallen underbrush raked away from their trees before the season begins, and collecting this material in some safe spot wait for a quiet day when no wind will cool the wet finger, and then they burn the rakings.

Negroes are common laborers of the turpentine woods, but white men are plentiful. They live in rough shanties in the woods, with the stables for the mules and horses near at hand. No work is more healthful than turpentine making, for it is all out of doors in the depths of the balmy, health giving pines, free from the malaria of the swamps and from sudden changes of weather.—Chicago Record.

Horsepower.

The difference between nominal, indicated and effective horsepower often puzzles people. Nominal horsepower is an assumed quantity, used for the convenience of makers and buyers in describing the dimensions of the engines. Indicated horsepower is the amount shown by computations of the indicator diagram. Effective or actual horsepower is the work an engine can do or the difference between the indicated horsepower and the horsepower required to

The Awakening Tiger.

Between the drowsy sleep of the nocturnal animals and the hypersensitive sleep of those which spend their lives in constant fear of their enemies a place must be found for the form of slumber enjoyed by the large carnivora and that of domestic animals. The former have no enemies to fear except man, and the latter, protected by man, enjoy to the full the blessing of natural rest.

Tigers are frequently found fast asleep in the daytime. Native hunters have been known to track them after a "kill" to the place in which they were lying fast asleep and gorged with food and to shoot them as they lie. When taking his midday repose in districts where it is little disturbed, the tiger does not always retire to a place of security, like the bear, or even the leopard, which usually sleeps on the branch of a tree. It just lies down in some convenient spot, either shady or warm, according to the weather, and there sleeps almost regardless of danger. They have been found lying in dry nullahs, under trees and even in the grass of the hill-sides unobserved until their disturber came within a few yards of them.

General Douglas Hamilton, when shooting in the Dandilly forest, came upon a tigress and two cubs lying fast asleep on their backs, with their paws sticking up in the air, under a clump of bamboos. When he was within a few yards of the group, one raised its head and without moving its body quietly looked at him along the line of its body between its paws. Tigers kept in captivity awaken gradually, stretching and yawning like a dog.—London Spectator.
